BOTH JOHNSON AND KETCHEL ARE CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

Interest of the Sporting World is Centered in the Big Contest to be Fought Out at San Francisco Tomorrow—Betting Odds Favor Big Black Champion.

HOW THE PRINCIPALS COMPARE.
 Johnson. Ketchel.
 6 ft 4 in. Height. 5 ft 10 in.
 17 1/2 in. Neck. 17 in.
 40 1/2 in. Chest (normal). 39 in.
 41 1/2 in. Chest (expanded). 42 in.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 15.—"When they see me against Ketchel, the fight fans will see me at my very best. While I think he is a harder man to beat than Kaufman, I anticipate no trouble in disposing of him within ten rounds."—Jack Johnson.

"I'll trim Johnson sure. I will use my regular style of fighting, the style that dropped O'Brien to the floor in three rounds."—Stanley Ketchel.

The above statements made at their respective training quarters today indicate the apparent confidence with which Jack Johnson and Stanley Ketchel are looking forward to their meeting in the arena at Colma tomorrow. Whatever may be the result it is certain that the defeated man will not have the old excuse of lack of condition to fall back upon. Since the present match was made Johnson has indulged in the only training he has done since he won the title from Tommy Burns in Australia last December. The fact that he saw fit to prepare himself for Ketchel and not for Kaufman shows that despite his statements to the contrary, he is not inclined to underestimate the prowess of the big Michigander.

Since his recent return from the east Ketchel has been training faithfully and from all appearances he is in fine fettle. Instead of reducing as he did for his previous fights he has allowed himself to take on weight, so that the difference in avoidable pounds between him and the big black man will not be so great when they climb into the ring as is normally the case. Johnson's advantage in weight over Ketchel will probably not exceed twenty pounds.

While Ketchel has a greater number of well wishers, it is a different thing when it comes to betting money. The wise ones find it difficult to figure out where Ketchel has much better than a 2 to 1 show. His only chance, in the opinion of the experts, will be to mix it up from the start and take a chance on getting in a decisive blow. Johnson, on the other hand, is a past master in the art of stalling and may be counted upon to do his best at keeping the Michigan boy at a distance the whole twenty rounds.

A few of the wisecracks of the sporting brigade, however, and among whom are many of the old-time pugilists, say Johnson is only good on the surface, and will be unable to stand a grilling contest. But followers of the black champion just smile at this, and simply say they have the money to back their man.

The match has created no end of interest here and promoter Coffroth is figuring on filling his place at Colma with a record-breaking crowd. There have been many great pugilistic encounters pulled off in the Golden Gate city during the past ten or fifteen years, but few ever aroused more public interest than the battle to be pulled off tomorrow. On the streets and in restaurants, clubs and other places where sporting men congregate, the prowess of the two fighters and the probable result of their meeting form the sole topic of conversation. A large number of fight followers from outside points are arriving in the city and the indications are that some big bets on the result will be made between now and the hour fixed for the beginning of the battle.

PIRATES PAY FINES.

Detroit, Oct. 15.—The national commission has announced that it has fined Cammie Clarke, Leach and Gibson of Pittsburgh $25 each for their delinquent tactics and umpire baiting in Monday's game. The trouble came in the seventh inning, when the Detroit team made its rally. Miller threw wildly to Abstein and the Pittsburgh players made the claim that Morley had interfered with Abstein on the play. This started a long wrangle. Manager Clarke was fined for calling Umpire O'Loughlin an "American leaguer," thus alleging that he was not giving the National Leaguers a fair deal.

IOWA FEARS NEBRASKA.

Iowa City, Iowa, Oct. 15.—Nebraska's score against Knox has caused the Iowa coaches considerable worry and the practice this week has been conducted accordingly. Iowa does not play the cornhuskers until Oct. 23 however, the week after Minnesota meets Cole's team at Omaha. This furnishes the hawkers, students a grain of comfort, for unless the players are injured in the scrimmages Iowa will be in the best condition for Nebraska. That the hawkers have made rapid improvement since the Minnesota game is admitted by the coaches. However, they state that the players will have to improve more rapidly the next two weeks in order to successfully meet the cornhuskers.

WAGNER PRAISES COBB.

By Hans Wagner.—From what I have seen of Ty Cobb, and what I have heard of him, I don't hesitate to say that the Georgia Peach is the most finished ball player in America today. There isn't one department of the game in which he shows a weakness. His base running is simply marvelous, because it is not only speedy, but so well timed. At bat he never seems to be guessing, while his fielding and throwing are all that could be desired of an outfielder. There may be men who excel Cobb in some slight particular, but when it comes to taking every element of the make-up of a real ball player into consideration, including gameness, I feel certain that Cobb has it on any man playing baseball in the world today.

MICHIGAN ELEVEN GETTING IN GOOD SHAPE FOR OHIO

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 15.—Four touchdowns were registered against the scrubs by the varsity yesterday afternoon in the first scrimmage since the Case game. Work has now begun in earnest in preparation for the clash with the husky eleven from Ohio State university Saturday. The Buckeyes are reported as unusually strong this year.

The absence of Coach Yost caused no let-up in the program. Keene Fitzpatrick, "Buck" Hall and "Cap" Redden kept everybody busy while the Wolverine leader was sizing up the Tigers and Pirates at Bennett park. "Vic" Pattengill handled the varsity from the quarterback station throughout the scrimmage. Billy Wassmund being allowed to rest on account of a slight injury received in the Case game. Banney and Smith did not report. Both these boys are still on the injured list, but expect to line up against O. S. U. on Saturday.

On-side kicks galore featured the varsity attack. The scrubs were completely baffled by this style of play, the varsity ends or tackles usually recovering the ball on the short kicks. Redden kept a watchful eye on the ends and tackles, calling them whenever they failed to block properly.

Joy Miller states that he will report for practice. The scrubs meet the varsity for a regular game next time out.

MURRAY DENIES THAT JENNINGS BOUGHT STOCK

That old rumor about Hughey Jennings going to Philadelphia Nationals broke loose again this week probably caused by the announcement that Robert Davis has sold his block of stock in the Phillies to Felix Isman, the man who tried to swing the deal to give Mike Donlin to replace Billy Murray as manager.

The story issued wag to the effect that Jennings had purchased Murray's stock in the Philadelphia Club, amounting to about $10,000 or $12,000 and would request his release from the Tigers this fall.

Jennings would make no statement of any kind, simply saying he was too busy with the world's championship series to think of anything else. Murray when asked said:

"I have not seen Jennings, except to pass greetings of the day, for a long time, and the deal has never come into my mind. But I'll tell you what I'll do with you. If you can get Hughey to buy my holdings at my price (with emphasis on the my) I will make you a present of $1,000."

Close friends of Murray say that if he is to be ousted from the management they will have to come to him with a price, not only for his stock, but his salary for next year, his contract running until the end of the 1910 season.

Jennings has no thought of trying to get away from Detroit, and could not get out of the American league without waivers from all clubs, even if Detroit were willing to let him go. The local management is prepared to pay him as much as any National league club could offer.

NOTES FROM THE LABOR WORLD.

The membership of the Retail Clerks' International grew from 5,000 to 50,000 between 1898 and 1909.

The International Association of Car Workers will hold its annual convention at Detroit, Mich., on October 13.

The Retail Clerks' union in Evansville, Ind., is rapidly growing by appealing to other unionists to insist upon union clerks waiting on them.

Thos. L. Wilson, international vice president of the Machinists' union, announces that several new large lodges are soon to be formed in the vicinity of Boston.

At the recent convention in Minneapolis, Minn., F. M. Ryan was re-elected international president of the Bridge and Structural Workers International association.

Another new union has been admitted to the list of Minneapolis locals, and gives promise of becoming one of the largest and strongest. It is the Twin City Cement Workers' union.

Under the new labor law of New York, which went into effect October 1, girls under sixteen shall not be employed in any capacity where such employment compels them to remain standing constantly.

The action of the Minneapolis trades assembly in passing a law requiring its delegates to wear at least four union labels in order to qualify as members is attracting considerable attention in other cities.

There are now fifty-one central or national unions in the Federation of Danish Trade Unions, with 1,214 local branches, besides ten local societies; the total membership is estimated to be about 100,000.

The contemplated organization of the International Brotherhood of Railway Carmen and the National Car Workers would have a membership exceeding sixty thousand which would place it numerically among the foremost labor organizations in America.

A recapitulation of the benefits of all kinds paid by the Amalgamated Society of British Engineers during the fifty-eight years in which benefits of any kind have been paid shows that a total of $10,727,905 has been expended in the work.

Under the act for the maintenance of industrial peace in Canada, which went into effect March 22, 1907, 94 per cent of all strikes since that time have been avoided or ended. These strikes were miners, railroad and street car men, longshoremen, teamsters and sailors.

The referendum has received a down and out blow from the boot and shoe workers. After electing its national officers by a referendum vote for many years, the organization has gone back to the convention system and will elect its officers at national meetings every two years.

Northwestern railroad organizations will unite to form a branch of the railway department of the American Federation of Labor. T. P. Richardson of Chicago, secretary-treasurer of the general organization, has sent out the call for a convention of representatives of ten different crafts employed by the railroads centering in St. Paul and Minneapolis, to be held at St. Paul, beginning November 1.

"THIS IS MY 53RD BIRTHDAY."

Charles H. Levermore, president of Adelphi college, Brooklyn, was born in Mansfield, Conn., Oct. 15, 1856, and received his education at Yale college. After his graduation in 1878 he was for four years principal of Guilford institute in Connecticut. From 1884 to 1886 he was an instructor at Johns Hopkins university and from 1886 to 1888 he was instructor of history at the University of California. In 1888 Dr. Levermore became professor of history in the Massachusetts institute of technology, where he remained until appointed principal of Adelphi academy in 1892. Three years later he was called to the presidency of Adelphi college. Dr. Levermore is regarded as a high authority on political history and has written and lectured extensively on that subject.

Clang, chatter, bang! Down the street came the fire engines.

Driving along ahead, oblivious of any danger, was a farmer in a ramshackle old buggy. A policeman yelled at him: "Hi, there look out! The fire department's coming."

Turning in by the curb the farmer watched the hose cart, salvage wagon and engine whiz past. Then he turned out into the street again and drove on. Barely had he started when the hook and ladder came tearing along. The rear wheel of the big truck slewed into the farmer's buggy smashing it into smithereens and sending the farmer sprawling into the gutter. The policeman ran to his assistance.

"Didn't I tell you to keep out of the way?" he demanded crossly. "Didn't I tell you the fire department was coming?"

"Wall, consarn ye," said the peevish farmer. "I did git outter the way for th' fire department. But what in tarnation was them drunken painters in such an all-fired hurry fer?"—Everybody's Magazine.
